

Christmas in Greece

As Christmas is a special celebration, all the country is decorated brightly.

The Greeks usually eat roast turkey with their families.

Christopsomo (Christ Bread), is a loaf of bread decorated with a cross for the Christmas Eve.

Greek traditional Christmas sweets are Melomakarona and Kourampiedes.

Vassilopita is a special cake for the New Year's Eve. There is a coin hidden in the pie and it is said that the one who finds it will be lucky all year long.

Schools are decorated with Christmas trees and crafts from students.

Each student makes his own charm for the New Year.
